One perspective is to examine what competencies are vital to all students. These include a mandatory session led by the TAAAC founder, as well as two specific TAAAC-EM briefings during which a detailed description of expected teaching Global Health Training in Graduate Medical Education:A Guidebook, review of teaching materials, and evaluation forms to be completed are outlined by the curriculum co-directors. Abstract An at first sight seemingly coherent, global medical workforce, with clearly recognizable specialities, subspecialties and primary care doctors, appears at a closer look quite variable.
